2021 Bronco

A midsize SUV that can take your adventure to new roads

Looking to take your daily drives to new, much more exciting heights? The 2021 Ford Bronco is your ticket to adventure. Available in a 2- and 4-door configuration, the Bronco doesn't just look the part of a dependable co-pilot; it's equipped for all your off-road travels, too.

Adventure-Ready Performance

Pop open the hood of the Bronco, and you'll know for sure that it'll be ready for anything the road can throw at it. With high-powered engine options, a slew of capable performance features, and transmission options, it'll provide the performance you need to not only get to where you need to go but make the trip exciting, too.

Powertrain Options

The 2021 Ford Bronco offers two engine options. The 2.3L EcoBoost® engine gets 270 horsepower and a best-in-class torque rating of 310 lb-ft. The 2.7L EcoBoost® engine gets a best-in-class 310 horsepower and 400 lb-ft of torque. With all that power, you'll be able to tow a few jet skis, a travel trailer, or even a utility trailer.

Just from the specs alone, you'll know that these engines are more than capable of providing the power you need for the road ahead, but it's the transmissions that'll give you the smooth drive you crave.

With the 2021 Bronco, you'll be able to choose between a 7-speed manual transmission or a 10-speed automatic transmission. As segment firsts, both options are designed to deliver the perfect balance of power, torque, and gear ranges for a smooth performance across any terrain.

All-Terrain Performance

From the swamplands to the mountains, the Ford Bronco is equipped with a 4x4 system to help you get through any terrain. It features Part-Time Selectable Engagement and selectable driving modes to cater to whatever your adventure calls for.

If you want a little more control, go with the available advanced 4x4 system with automatic on-demand engagement. With additional driving modes, the system can automatically divert power to the front wheels for enhanced traction and grip.

Then, there's the Terrain Management System with G.O.A.T. Modes™. Designed to adjust performance to whatever the road—or lack of road—throws your way, it gives the Bronco 5 standard modes: Sand, Slippery, Sport, Eco, and Normal. The Badlands trim also features a Mud/Ruts and Rock Crawl mode. It also swaps out Sport mode for a Baja mode.

Other off-road performance features include:

- Trail Control™ is a driver-activated cruise control system that helps you get through rough terrain like a true off-roading pro. It controls braking for individual wheels and throttle while ensuring a consistent speed when you're behind the wheel. That way, you can focus more on steering and the excitement of the adventure ahead.
- Trail Turn Assist reduces the turning radius when traveling through off-road conditions at low speeds. It applies the brakes to the inside rear wheel for optimum control and stability.
- Trail 1-Pedal Drive activates low-speed crawling to stop the car without using the brake pedal. Basically, it brings the Bronco to a stop as you take your foot off the gas.

Exterior & Interior Design

The 2021 Ford Bronco exudes adventure and performance, not just with the systems under the hood, but its overall design, too. Its rugged exterior perfectly complements its strong performance while its interior provides all the comfort you need to enjoy your experience behind the wheel.

Exterior

Rough, tough, and ready for action, the Bronco is a true off-roading set of wheels. However, it's not just the aesthetics that make this SUV a worthy companion for your travels; it's the design features, too.

With a removable roof and removable doors, you can engulf your senses in the world around you. Feel the wind flowing through the cockpit and the sun beating down on you as you explore new worlds.

Then, there's the construction of the Bronco itself. Designed to help you make the most out of your drives, here are some of the best things the exterior can offer you:

- Best-in-class 11.6 inches of ground clearance
- Best-in-class 37.2-degree departure angle
- 29-degree breakover angle
- 43.2-degree approach angle
- 33.5 inches of water-fording capability

Interior

While the exterior of the Bronco is all about capability and adventure, the interior is all about comfort and convenience.

In 2-door Broncos, you'll find seating for up to 4. Four-door Broncos offer seating for up to 5. Plus, with available 60/40 split-fold rear seats in the 4-door SUVs, you'll be able to configure the interior so you can easily bring along your friends and the cargo you need.

Looking for luxury? Leather-trimmed seating is available. Need an interior that can handle your heavy-duty lifestyle? The Bronco offers cloth and Marine-grade-vinyl seating options too.

Off-road adventures can get messy. Fortunately, the Bronco also comes with easy-clean interior features, like rubberized washable floors, to keep everything inside neat and tidy. If you happen to go through some wetlands along the way, the interior offers integrated drains as well.

2021 Ford Bronco Sport

A ruggedly capable compact SUV perfect for any adventure

Now, let's turn your attention over to the 2021 Bronco Sport. As a compact SUV, it combines versatility and performance capabilities in ways that are sure to take your next drive to a whole new level. Whether you're exploring new roads or running errands around town, the 5-door Bronco Sport can be the perfect co-pilot for wherever the streets take you.

Performance for All Terrains

The versatility of the 2021 Ford Bronco Sport starts with its performance. Powerful yet practical, it provides all the power and capabilities you need to enjoy a leisurely cruise around town or a thrilling trek to roads less traveled.

Powertrain Options

Like the Bronco, the Bronco Sport offers two engine options. The 1.5L EcoBoost® engine gets 181 horsepower and 190 lb-ft of torque with the 4x4, and the 2.0L EcoBoost® engine gets 245 and 275 lb-ft of torque.

No matter which engine you choose, you can bet you'll get a smooth and controlled performance. Standard with both engine configurations is the 8-speed automatic transmission. Put the pedal to the medal, and it'll provide smooth up- and downshifts. It's also a pro at helping you stay in control whenever you're traveling through rough trails.

Performance Capabilities for the Ultimate Adventure

Power won't be the only thing you'll experience when you get behind the wheel of the 2021 Bronco Sport. Thanks to its standard 4x4 system, you'll be able to take on the elements with ease, too! The system spreads power to all the wheels to reduce wheel slip and ensure optimum traction in those slippery and rocky areas.

To up the SUV's overall performance capability, you'll want to check out the Advanced 4x4 with Twin-Clutch Rear Drive Unit. It sends torque to a rear wheel even when the others have no traction to ensure a stable drive. It also works alongside driver-selectable modes to provide a more agile performance across loose terrain.

Speaking of driver-selectable modes, the Bronco Sport comes with G.O.A.T. Modes™ too. Whether you're driving through sand, slippery streets, rocks, or even mud, there's a mode for any terrain. Just select the one that matches your current surroundings and proceed through your adventure with confidence. The SUV also features an off-road suspension system with tuned front struts, and hydraulic rebound stops for a quieter, more serene experience behind the wheel.

The Bronco Sport also comes with Trail Control™, which lets you set the speed for your off-road trek, so you can better enjoy and focus on the exciting adventure ahead. Plus, with a 180-degree split-view camera, you'll be able to see your surroundings better when you're behind the wheel.

Exterior & Interior Design

Every vehicle in the Bronco family looks like it's ready for any adventure, and the Bronco Sport is no exception. Packed with tons of tech and outfitted to take on the elements with ease, the Bronco Sport knows no bounds when it comes to entertainment, comfort, and adventure.

Exterior

Let's start with the exterior design of the Bronco Sport. With available steel bash plates, its underbody is always protected. Plus, like the Bronco, the Bronco Sport comes with a performance-inspired exterior design complete with the following specifications:

- 30.4-degree approach angle
- 33.1-degree departure angle
- 8.8 inches of ground clearance
- 23.6 inches of water fording capabilities

On top of that, it includes a safari-style roof that not only adds to the aesthetics of the vehicle but also provides more headroom inside. If you need to quickly get into the trunk, the standard flip-up rear glass can be of assistance. Then, there are the rear floodlights. When the sun sets, and it's time to head home, pop open the trunk and activate the rear floodlights to help you see what you're packing into the car.

Best of all, the Bronco can be outfitted with a variety of exterior accessories, including crossbars so that you can take all your gear with you.

Interior

The 2021 Ford Bronco Sport may be a compact SUV, but like the other Broncos in the family, it's spacious enough for your entire family and all your cargo. On top of that, it's loaded with technologies to make your drives easier and more enjoyable.

Let's start with the SYNC® 3 system. Complete with an 8-inch screen and voice-activated technology, you'll have all of your favorite infotainment features at your fingertips whenever you get behind the wheel.

Want to make sure your smartphone has enough juice for all the photos you'll take on your off-road excursion? The Bronco Sport comes with an available wireless charging pad, too. All you have to do is put your compatible device on the mat, and it'll charge it right up.

A good drive always includes a good playlist, and with the 2021 Bronco Sport, you'll be able to enjoy your favorite tunes in crystal-clear, concert-like quality thanks to the available B&O Sound System by Bang and Olufsen. It comes with ten speakers so you can immerse yourself and experience a top-notch audio experience with every song on your playlist.

Best of all, the Bronco Sport comes with an easy-clean interior too! From available rubberized flooring in the cargo area to rubberized seatbacks and floors, you can protect the inside of this ruggedly stylish SUV from mud, water, and anything else you may end up tracking inside when it's time to head home.
